Why children are scared of the dark

Some children cannot sleep in the dark. A child who is afraid of the dark ....(1).....seeking attention — as many parents would suspect — but rather suffering ....(2).....night blindness.

Researchers say the condition is rare, and the ....(3).....can often be missed.

Most people's eyes adjust to the dark after a short period of time.

But some children, who have no obvious visual problems and who can see normally in ....(4).....conditions, can have difficulty seeing in the dark even after this period of adaptation.

Writing....(5).....the British Medical Journal, researchers from the Gartnavel General Hospital, Glasgow, detail two cases of a form of the condition congenital stationary night blindness.

A three-year-old girl was ....(6)..... to doctors by her parents who said she persistently complained ....(7)..... able to see in the dark.

She had great difficulty getting to sleep, and would not leave her bedroom in the dark ....(8)..... she would move from a dark bedroom to a lit hallway.

She was only taken to see doctors after her three-month-old sister was diagnosed as having ....(9)..... problems.

The second case concerned a girl of two who had a history of falling over and bumping into things, .....(10).....problems seeing in the dark.

She would wake crying in the night, but would not go to her parents' bedroom and was very frightened. She was also .....(11).....of shadows.

Doctors discovered there was a family history of visual problems, .....(12)..... night blindness.

The child was given a .....(13)..... she could carry outside at night, and she had a bright light shining into her bedroom.

Her fear of the dark appears to have disappeared.

The research team, .....(14).....by consultant ophthalmologist Gordon Dutton, said it was important to get as many details as possible where children are afraid of the dark, particularly if there is a family history of visual problems.

They wrote : «Night blindness in children can bring .....(15).....profound fear of the dark.

Women leaving jobs in information technology

.....(16).....women stay in technology jobs is as important as persuading girls to pursue such careers in the first place.

This was the view of a succession of speakers at the third annual Women in Information Technology conference .....(17).....in London on Wednesday.

.....(18).....too many women are leaving the profession and this flow must be.....(19).....if the UK is to have an equal percentage of men and women in the tech sector, said Trade and Industry Secretary Patricia Hewitt.

They are quitting their jobs .....(20).....to pursue other interests, she said.

«Over one third of new recruits in the technology industry are women but they don't stay so something is going wrong on the issue of retention,» she said.

Part of the problem, said Ms Hewitt, is a perception that it was impossible to balance a career and children in the often tough world of technology.

.....(21).....much work at government and industry level to address the problem of recruiting and retaining females in technology jobs, the figures .....(22).....make depressing reading.

GM cheese from cloned cows

New Zealand scientists say their cows are twice .....(26).....productive. They have created the world's first cloned cows that produce special milk which can increase the productivity of the dairy industry.

The researchers in Hamilton say a .....(27).....of nine transgenic cows are now producing highly elevated levels of milk proteins, casein, which are vital for .....(28)..... .

Cows have previously been .....(29).....to produce proteins for medical purposes, but this is the first time the milk itself has been genetically enhanced.

The scientists hope the .....(30).....will transform the cheese industry, and — if widened — the techniques could be used to «tailor» milk for human consumption.

But many environmentalists argue .....(31).....there is no proof that any such products — which have never before gone on sale — will be safe.

The researchers, led by Goetz Laible, developed cells in the laboratory to overproduce casein proteins, which were .....(32).....fused with cow eggs.

The embryos were transferred into recipient cows, and 11 transgenic calves were born.

.....(33).....reaching maturity, nine of those animals produced milk with.....(34).....increase of two types of casein proteins.

World Economic Forum : Can it help restore confidence ?

The annual meeting of the World Economic Forum .....(38).....the Swiss resort of Davos with unprecedented security.

The Swiss authorities say any aircraft making .....(39).....flights over Davos could be shot down.

A major part of the discussions at the forum will be how to restore confidence in the global economy.

The United States led war against terrorism could soon lead to military action in Iraq.

This could pose a .....(40).....threat to an economic system already shaken by stock market falls, corporate scandals, and threatened by poor economic growth in many parts of the world.

How do you think confidence in the global economy can be restored ? Has your trust in world business and political leaders been shaken ?

We need a system of zero growth which favours the people who actually do the work. Capitalism will surely fall, .....(42).....the size and «resources» of the Earth are not infinite.»*
Steve S, USA.

«My trust in the global economy will be restored when it becomes morally and legally wrong for individuals and corporations to .....(43).....the power that comes from extreme wealth.

Extreme concentrations of wealth skew the markets and even the most benevolent corporations end up making dangerous decisions. Retain space for ambition, yes, but let's have the market do their job and .....(44).....of the corporate equivalent of gang rule !»
Simon, Canada

What lies ahead for education in 2003

As soon as the party hats have been put away and the New Year celebrations have .....(49).....there will be one big issue .....(50).....in the education secretary's in-tray.

The future of student fees and university .....(51).....will have to be determined.

After a review that has dragged on for over a year, this month will finally see the fruits of Labour's long hard thinking on a topic that has .....(52).....them since taking office.

In the .....(53).....round of controversy, the government was accused of planning huge hikes in tuition fees to .....(54).....extra money into universities.

This has been denied - and it seems .....(55).....that students and their families will face mortgage-sized up-front fees.

Student protests and the prospect of .....(56).....off middle class voters appear to have tilted the argument towards a payment system that begins after students.....(57)..... But nothing is certain and the Education Secretary Charles Clarke has no easy options.

The Finsbury Park mosque attracts police attention

Finsbury Park mosque is a three-storey modern brick building which .....(59)..... between quiet Victorian terraces and low rise tower blocks.

It has a reputation as a .....(60).....of extremism, and is just a stone's throw from the busy and, as locals described it, sometimes «dangerous» north London artery of Seven Sisters Road.

But residents say the mosque and its immediate .....(61).....are usually very quiet — and they were quite surprised by the raid.

«It's no problem at all. It gets very busy on Fridays with all the .....(62).....but usually it's quite quiet,» said one man who lived nearby.

«It's no problem at all — actually, I hadn't even realised it was a mosque,» said another woman.

Other residents were .....(63).....to be woken at 0230 GMT by the sounds of a police raid and what they thought was the mosque door breaking open.

Local civil servant Matt Newman was awoken by what he assumed was a .....(64).....which «sounded like a train».

«Before that there were about four people shouting in a foreign language but that's pretty normal around here — shouting,» he said.

Another resident, who did not want to be named, said : «I was up at the time. I saw loads of police going in — they very quickly .....(65).....the area and had a couple of armed units walking around the outer perimeter to make sure people knew this was a major incident,» he said.

He welcomed the action against the mosque, at which a controversial radical cleric preaches.

Online shopping over the Christmas period

IMRG said online sales were 79% .....(66).....a year ago, with shoppers «deluging» e-tailers with £949m worth of .....(67).....in the three available Christmas shopping weeks.

This compared with year-on-year growth on the High Street of 4.1%, .....(68)..... British Retail Consortium figures.

John Lewis Direct managing director Simon Palethorpe said he thought the growth indicated increased confidence in online shopping.

«We also see it as people who had previously only been buying books and CDs branching out to .....(69).....ambitious purchases as they become more sophisticated internet users.» He said John Lewis Direct had seen demand at three times 2001 levels :

A bottle of wine .....(70).....second.

IMRG said online sales were greater across all sectors, but sales of alcohol did particularly well.

Gifting sales — .....(71).....the e-tailer wraps the present and sends it direct to the recipient — were also extremely popular.

IMRG chief executive James Roper said he was «delighted» with the December figures, despite there being a slight dip from November's record £1bn level.

He said this was because the selling window for online retailers had been limited last month, with presents needing to be delivered by Christmas Day.

Motor neurone disease

What is motor neurone disease ?

Motor Neurone Disease (MND) is a group of related diseases affecting the motor neurones in the brain and spinal cord.

Motor neurones are the nerve cells along which the brain sends instructions, .....(72).....of electrical impulses, to the muscles.

Degeneration of these cells leads to weakness and wasting of muscles.

Some groups of muscles are .....(73).....

The symptoms are usually first apparent in the arms or legs. Initially, they tend to be mild, and can include stumbling and difficulty holding objects.

Weakness and wasting in the muscles supplying the face and throat can also lead to problems with speech and difficulty chewing and swallowing.

In the advanced stages of the disease, a patient may become almost totally immobile. The rate of progression of the disease, however, varies enormously from patient to patient.

.....(74).....average the disease takes three to four years to run its course.

There are no remissions but people may experience a «plateau» lasting weeks or months while no deterioration occurs.

MND usually has no impact at all on intellect or memory.

The disease also has no impact on the five senses of sight, .....(75).....taste, smell and sensation.

The bowels and bladder are not affected by the disease, but diet and exercise should be carefully monitored.

The cause of the disease remains a mystery.

The disease is often difficult to diagnose... .

A .....(76).....of tests are needed to rule out other conditions.

Often an Electromyograph (EMG) is used, in which a needle is inserted into various muscles to measure their electrical activity. Sometimes a muscle biopsy will be carried .....(77)..... so that a small sample of muscle can be examined under a microscope.

At present there is no cure.

However, a great deal can be done to improve the comfort and well being of people who have MND.

Historic Taiwan flight lands in China

There ..... (78) ..... no direct Taiwan-China flights in 50 years. Taiwan's largest airline, China Airlines, has made history by becoming the island's first carrier to land in mainland China in more than 50 years.

The charter flight arrived in the Chinese city of Shanghai via Honk Kong at 0852 (0052 GMT), where it picks up Taiwanese who want to travel back home to celebrate the lunar New Year holiday.
